POLEIGN

5th January 1920.

Daniel M. Woodhull, Esq., President,
American Bank Note Company,
New York, U.S.A.

Dear Sir:-

When I was in Singapore I had an interview with the Hon. Mr. A.M. Pounchey, the Colonial Treasurer, on the subject of furnishing them with their banknotes.

Mr. Pounchey admitted the superiority of our notes to those he was getting from Sprague of London, but says his predecessor made a long term contract which he thinks it impossible to break, and if he tried the question would have to go to the Colonial Office in London.

however, he would listen to a proposition from us for making some small money notes. Due to the scarcity of silver, as soon as they put out silver subsidiary coins, they go out of circulation and ever since the war began they have been forced to issue large amounts of ten cent paper notes. Enclosed herewith are two specimens, which are unsatisfactory alike to the public and to the Colonial Government, but they are printed locally and they have to take what they can get.

He liked exceedingly well the small money notes we have made for China, with the steel face and the multi back, but thinks the price to be more than they can pay, for the Straits ten cents is but five cents of our money. They would order 20,000,000 if they could get them cheap enough. I note you have quoted for the Board of Finance $6.20 cents for this quantity. I told Mr. Pounchey that I thought the price would be around $10 per thousand and as that meant 20 of his dollars, no said it was more than they could pay for a ten cent note.

However the proposition seems good enough to warrant making a model for and will you please do so. The size you can make that will work to the best advantage. I enclose a 10 cent note of Japan so you can see what they use. Will you please advise me your best price and also if the steel printing is too expensive whether you would consent to lithograph a small money note for them. And if so what will the price be.

The money issued by the Government of the Straits Settlements is used not only in the crown colonies in that locality, but throughout the whole of the malay peninsula - the Federated malay states, as they are called, and is of such a poor quality as to incite much unfavorable comment.

It might be advisable to have our London connections look into the matter a bit at their end. As our name would not appear it would not prejudice our interests at this end any, and they might find something.

Will you please send the model and prices here.

CHINA

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS

February 26, 1920.

We have read with interest your letter of January 5th in regard to the interview you had with Mr. Pouncey, the Colonial Treasurer of the above Government, relative to our furnishing them with small money notes.

Together with your letter we duly received the two Ten Cent Notes and, in accordance with your request, we are now preparing a model - made up similar to the Small Money notes we prepared for the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications.

It is our idea to prepare a model with steel face and multicolor printing on back; on the face we propose showing a stock vignette of a cotton or rice scene - and on the back simply multicolor lathe work design. We will endeavor to make the price for these notes as low as possible in view of what you tell us in your letter, and will advise you what this price will be at the time we forward our model.

With regard to your remarks as to whether we would consent to lithograph a small money note for them - we would point out that under no circumstances would we furnish a lithographed note and do not care to establish any precedent in this case,- since lithographed notes can be counterfeited too easily.

CHINA

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS

March 4, 1920.

C. P. R.

With further reference to our letter of February 26th under this heading we beg to advise that it has now been decided to make up, in addition to the models mentioned in said letter, a back model with one steel printing only.

In the meantime we beg to quote you prices as follows:-

For furnishing notes with one steel printing on face and multicolor back, with stock vignette on face, printed on our scattered planchette paper, numbered once on face and once on back; size 2 1/2 x 4 1/4" over all ( this size is the same as the Bank of China $1 small money note issue of July 1st, 1915); cut and trimmed to size, our price will be - for 20,000,000 - Ten Cent notes.....$7.90 per 1000.

For furnishing 20,000,000 - Ten Cent Notes, with one steel printing on face, and one steel printing on back, in all other respects to be the same as the above, our price will be.....$7.40 per 1000.

These prices are U. S. Gold, F.O.B. New York.

The models for this note will be forwarded to you as soon as they are finished and we trust that you will succeed in securing this order for us.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS

March 16, 1920.

Referring to our letter of March 4th in regard to notes for the above Government, we beg to advise forwarding, under separate cover by registered mail, one face model and two back models for a Ten Cent note.

The face model is made up for one steel printing and we think you will agree with us that it makes a very good looking note.

As regards the back models - one is made up for multi-color printing only , - and the other shows one steel printing. As already advised you, we thought it best to make up two different styles of back models and we shall anxiously await further particulars from you on the subject.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS.

THE COMMERCIAL CABLE COMPANY may decline to forward any message, though it has been accepted for transmission, but in case of so doing, shall refund to the sender the amount paid for its transmission.

THIS COMPANY WILL NOT ASSUME ANY RESPONSIBILITY IN RESPECT TO ANY MESSAGE BEYOND THE TERMINUS OF ITS OWN LINES.

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should WRITE IT LEGIBLY and order it REPEATED; that is, telegraphed back to the sending station for comparison. For such repeating an additional charge of one-quarter the regular rate will be made.

It is agreed between the sender of the message on the face hereof, and this Company, that said Company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, or mis-delivery, of any unrepeated message beyond the amount of that portion of the charge which may or shall accrue to this Company out of the amount received from the sender for this, and the other companies, by whose lines such message may pass to reach its destination; and that this Company shall not be liable for mistakes in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, or mis-delivery of any repeated message beyond fifty times the extra sum received by this company from the sender for repeating such message over its own lines.

This Company is hereby made the agent of the sender without liability to forward any message by the lines of any other company to reach its destination.

This Company shall not be responsible for messages until they are presented and accepted at one of its transmitting offices; if a message be sent to such office by one of the Company's messengers, the messenger acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender; if by telephone, the person receiving the message acts therein as the agent of the sender, and is authorized to assent to these conditions on behalf of the sender.

This Company shall not be liable in any case where the claim is not presented in writing within sixty days after the filing of the message.

It is agreed that prompt and correct transmission and delivery of this message shall be presumed in any action for recovery of the tolls therefor, subject, however, to rebuttal by competent evidence.

This Company shall not be liable in any case for delays arising from interruptions to the working of its lines, nor for errors in cipher or obscure messages.

In any event this Company shall not be held liable for any loss or damage, or for delay or detention, or errors caused by storms or the action of the elements, or other acts of God, or by civil or military authority, or by insurrections, riots, rebellions, or dangers incident to the time of war, or by unlawful acts of individuals.

This is an UNREPEATED message and is transmitted and delivered by request of the sender under the conditions named above.

No employee of this Company is authorized to vary the foregoing.

DEFERRED SERVICE.

THE COMMERCIAL CABLE COMPANY will accept for transmission to certain specified countries Deferred Service Messages at rates per word which shall be less than the rates per word charged for ordinary messages, subject to the terms and conditions above, and as follows:

Only one language shall be used, it may be French or that of the country of origin or the country of destination. The sender must declare which of these languages is used.

The sender must write before the address, and pay the charge on one word, for the letters LCF, LCO, or LCD, according to his declaration.

The message must have an address and a text. A signature is optional with the sender, but the Company will not be able to make unpaid inquiries about the senders of unsigned messages.

The address may be a cable address. House and street numbers may be expressed in figures.

The text must be written entirely in one plain language without figures, commercial marks, groups of letters, abbreviations or mutilations. Numbers, except in the address, must be written in words. Genuine words spelled according to established usage, with not more than fifteen letters, will be charged as single words. Messages written in the manner prescribed will be counted and charged according to the International Regulations.

The messages will not be subject to artificial delay in transmission or delivery. Their transmission will only be delayed until ranking messages have been despatched.

CLARENCE H. MACKAY, PRESIDENT.

Your decision not to make a lithographed note is, in my opinion, a most wise one. I only enquired so that in case our policy had been changed, we might take advantage of it in this case where the price is so much of a factor.

My telegram No. 20 of March 17th, which you said in your cable No. 15 of March 31st had not been received, was an enquiry as to when these models would be sent. As the information that they were sent on March 16th came March 30th, I thought it was a reply to my cable.

DATE 14th July 1920. 8/23

I received the models made for the above at Singapore on my way home from Java, and agree with you that the models are most attractive.

On calling at the Colonial Office however I found that Mr. Pountney the Treasurer had gone home on leave, and that they had a new supply of ten cent notes just sent out from De La Rue of London. I have a specimen of this note in my papers which are in the safe deposit and which specimen I will send you as soon as I get it out. This new note is dated October 1919, and I did not call there until December 1919, at which time Mr. Pountney made no mention of having ordered any notes in England.

The Deputy in charge knew nothing of the matter, but was much pleased with the appearance of the models. He could however do nothing until Mr. Pountney's return, which will be in about six months, so rather than take the risk of losing the models, I brought them back with me and will take the matter up by correspondence when the Treasurer comes back to Singapore.

I did not receive any reply to my cable asking for price on these notes by the Major process, which under the circumstances was just as well.

I cannot quite understand why the Colonial Treasurer should in December, have led me to think he would give us an order and asked for models if he knew notes were already being prepared in London. The new notes arrived in Singapore the latter part of March. There is much complaint about and criticism of all the money issued by the Straits, and it would not surprise me if eventually we did some business with them. Much of the Java money gets to the Straits and they compare that with their own notes to the disadvantage of the latter.

You will remember that about three years ago we made, at the request of then then Colonial Treasurer, Mr. Pountney, models for some small money notes, but nothing ever came of it. They never issued the 20 cent notes and the 10 cent notes were made by De La Rue.

B. W. & Company have been trying to secure an order thru the Colonial office in London, but are told there that the request must come from Singapore. Therefore I called on the Colonial Treasurer and found that Mr. Pountney has gone home on leave and the man who is taking his place is reluctant to take any action during Mr. Pountney's absence. He admits the crying necessity for new and better money but can do nothing. Both in banking and business circles there is much complaint about the notes as regards quality, size and design. I think I left a specimen of their notes with you but in case it has been mislaid, I enclose a specimen of the dollar notes; the $5 is but a trifle larger while the $10 is a large note on thick paper which breaks with folding.

I did not mention to Mr. Shelley that there was any connection betwenn us and B. W. & Company - simply tried to get some action on our models.

I think I sent you before one of the 10 cent notes made by De La Rue for the Government of the Straits Settlements but they have just issued some new Fives and Tens also made by De La Rue and attached is one of the Fives. The Ten is the same character but a bit larger and printed in purple. They are not so bad and in my opinion better than Waterlow does. The native evidently takes the watermark as prima facie evidence of the note's genuineness for when you pass one he invariably holds it up to the light. I saw the Assistant of the Colonial Treasurer but it is I am sure, out of the question for either an American or Canadian form to do business on a British Colony. Off hand I should say the American might stand a better chance than the Canadian.

When I went down this time I wanted to go to Siam and also to see if there was any possibility of doing any business for B. W. &Co., in Singapore and the Straits Settlements. That would have necessitated my being away from here two months at the very least and I felt it unwise to absent myself for that length of time just now.

I enclose with this half of one of the counterfeit $10 notes, together with a good one with which you can compare it. Doubt if I shall ever be able to find a whole one, for the Government has ordered that if any are found they are to be torn in two and one half sent to the Colonial Treasurer's office. The best I can hope to do is perhaps to get the left end of another one.

There have been a few of the 1's and 5's counterfeited, but the majority have been 10's.

I asked the shroff who gave me this how he knew it was a bad note and he said there was too much green in the upper right hand corner and the picture at the bottom was not clear. I must say the color is a little off, but I cannot notice that the picture is much if any worse than that on the original note.

Inquired about the watermark about which De La Rue makes such a point and this fellow said that "looked all right to him."

Also I enclose half of a counterfeit of one of the old issue of $10 notes, but as these are withdrawn now I cannot get a clean new one, even if it would be of any interest. This was detected because the ruling was too fine and the paper "felt slippery."

I enclose as well a new $1 note which you might like to see.

Am sending a copy of this to Lynott and will try to get him a sample showing how the watermark has been copied, for we have had some requests for this lately.

Subject: The Government of the Straits Settlements $10 Note

The genuine note prepared by Thomas de La Rue & Company was printed from steel engraved plates, purple color being used for both face and back. The face of the note carries a simple diagonal ruled double tint with some pantograph work in the lower part printed by offset in orange and green colors. The back carries in addition to the steel engraved printing, a cycloid tint printed in yellow and blocked out to create a ray effect. In the lower right hand corner, a watermark of a lion's head appears.

The counterfeit was produced from photographic enlargements redrawn with pen and ink. The lathe work in the original note is of such a coarse nature that lends itself to simple photographic reproduction.

The vignettes on the original are extremely crude being single line work which offers the best of opportunities to reproduce by photography.

The entire steel engravings of the original have been handled by workmen entirely unfamiliar with the possibilities of steel engraved work. Being very flat in appearance and regardless of the various character of work it contains no gradation of color or contrasts are evident.

The counterfeit quite faithfully follows the original and shows evidence of some hand work.

The diagonal ruled double tints on the face of the counterfeit are printed from type plates, heavier in weight and stronger in color. The tints have been carried under the vignette entirely, which on the original is different, the tint having been blocked out in places. This was done in the original note so as to add color effect to the vignette to brighten it up owing to the poor handling of the engraving.

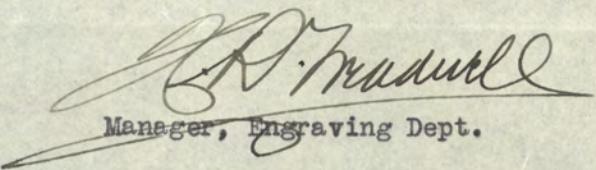

A new way to counterfeit watermarks has been used in this case. The lion's head has been painted with Chinese white on the paper in position and then slightly rubbed or pressed down. It bears a slight resemblance to the original, having lost the variations in tones from the original.

The numbering on the counterfeit appears to have been done in two printings. The  $\frac{C}{26} 40$  from a photo engraved plate and the balance of the number from stock type.

The paper used for the counterfeit consists of three pieces pasted together to match the paper of the original. This possibly was done to avoid registration of the back with the face by printing the face and back separately and then pasting them together.

This work of the counterfeit could have been done by a workman with some little knowledge of photomechanical processes, very easily, owing to the character of the work in the original note.

I was particularly glad and interested to receive your letter of November 8th with regard to the above.

Last spring I went as far as Port Said on the ship with the Hon. Mr. Shelley, the Colonial Treasurer, and while we almost won the bridge tournament together, I did not talk business with him as I knew Hendriks had been working on his note business.

There was also on board the wife of the Deputy Treasurer and she said they had had much trouble about their notes.

This I communicated to Hendriks in advance of Hon. Shelley's arrival in London, so that Hendriks could get in touch with him immediately on his arrival.

I certainly hope that B. W. will be successful in landing this contract. Will appreciate your informing me of any interesting developments.

I beg to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your letter of January 31st under this heading. Would say off hand that these prices ought to be cheap enough to get the order.

What sort of work is "two protective color printings in register, duplex system?" I have seen the notes B. W. do for the Hongkong Bank and while I haven't and cannot get one at the moment, my recollection is they have three under printings, something like, but not as good as our Major tint. Perhaps this is similar to the "rainbow tint" about which Waterlow prate so much.

I shall be interested in future developments on this prospect, for Singapore is not so far from here and if De La Rue should be thrown out of there it would be a good talking point for us when we come in competition with them.

THIS COMPANY WILL NOT ASSUME ANY RESPONSIBILITY IN RESPECT TO ANY MESSAGE BEYOND THE TERMINUS OF ITS OWN LINES.

To guard against mistakes or delays, the sender of a message should WRITE IT LEGIBLY and order it REPEATED; that is, telegraphed back to the sending station for comparison. For such repeating an additional charge of one-half the regular rate will be made.

It is agreed between the sender of the message on the face hereof, and this Company, that said Company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, or mis-delivery of any unrepeated message beyond the amount of that portion of the charge which may or shall accrue to this Company out of the amount received from the sender for this, and the other companies, by whose lines such message may pass to its destination; and that this Company shall not be liable for mistakes in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, or mis-delivery of any repeated message beyond fifty times the extra sum received by this company from the sender for repeating such message over its own lines.

This Company is hereby made the agent of the sender without liability to forward any message by the lines of any other company to reach its destination.

This Company shall not be responsible for messages until they are presented and accepted at one of its transmitting offices; if a message be sent to such office by one of the Company's messengers, the messenger acts for that purpose as the agent of the sender; if by telephone, the person receiving the message acts therein as the agent of the sender, and is authorized to assent to these conditions on behalf of the sender.

This Company shall not be liable in any case where the claim is not presented in writing within sixty days after the filing of the message.

It is agreed that prompt and correct transmission and delivery of this message shall be presumed in any action for recovery of the tolls therefore, subject, however, to rebuttal by competent evidence.

This Company shall not be liable in any case for delays arising from interruptions to the working of its lines, nor for errors in cipher or obscure messages.

In any event this Company shall not be held liable for any loss or damage, or for delay or detention, or errors caused by storms or the action of elements, or other acts of God, or by civil or military authority, or by insurrections, riots, rebellions, or dangers incident to the time of war, or by the un lässt acts of individuals.

This is an UNREPEATED message and is transmitted and delivered by request of the sender under the conditions named above.

No employee of this Company is authorized to vary the foregoing.

CLARENCE H. MACKAY, PRESIDENT.

Dear Mr. Woodhull,

We enclose herewith portrait of H.M. the King, together with reductions showing the size in which we desire to have the portrait engraved. This head is for the Straits Settlements Notes, and by the next mail we will send you a further picture showing the shape of the oval and the amount of bust that we require. We cannot do this, however, at the moment as we are uncertain which of our designs has been approved.

Mr. Hendriks has asked me to attend to this as he is leaving to go out and dine with Mr. Ashley.

Yours sincerely,

Further to our letter of the 20th inst., we submitted alternative designs, showing the head of His Majesty in an oval surround in one case, and quite free in another, and we enclose photographic reproductions of each suggestion. Until the designs arrive back from Singapore, which will not be until about the end of the first week in June, we do not know which one has been selected, but, in any case, we hope you will be able to proceed to some extent with the work in the meantime. I am asked by the Engraving Department to request you to make the background as dark as possible, as we have to lose our duplex colour ground in the margin of it, as the portrait itself has to be left entirely unprotected.

(The provisions on the back of this receipt define and limit the liability of the Company; none of these provisions can in any manner be altered or waived by any agent or employee of the Company.)

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS

Articles of a fragile or breakable nature should be carefully packed and securely boxed; when the goods are susceptible to damage by the elements, dampness or mildew or otherwise, they should be packed in metal or other properly lined cases, or if of a character to invite theft or pilferage, the cases should be securely strapped, corded and sealed. Before offering shipments of an explosive, inflammable or dangerous nature, shippers should specially inquire of the Company to ascertain whether arrangements for transportation can be made and conditions thereof. (See paragraph 9 on back of this receipt.)

1. It is agreed that the Company is the shipping agent of the Shipper, with respect to the property described on the face of this receipt, and does not act as a carrier, and that the Company shall not be liable in any manner as a carrier and shall have performed its whole duty with respect to said property when it makes arrangements for same to be delivered to a "carrier" for transportation and receives therefor a bill of lading or receipt, or makes arrangement for transportation to a port of entry or customary railway station for the address of the consignee set forth herein. In the event that the Company shall not receive from the "carrier" a through bill of lading or receipt to such port of entry or railway station, the Company agrees, subject to the terms and conditions on the face and back of this receipt, as agent for the shipper, to make such arrangements as may be practicable at the port or ports of transhipment for the transfer, transhipment and/or forwarding of said property to a port of entry or customary railway station for the address of consignee designated herein. Upon making such arrangements at said port or ports of transhipment, the Company shall be deemed to have performed its whole duty with respect to such property.

Should there be any interruption in service via designated or customary routes of "carriers" the Company may without notice to the shipper, cause the property to be forwarded via other routes or "carriers."

2. The Company shall in no event be liable or responsible for any loss of or damage or delay to said property caused by the acts, negligence or default of any "carrier" or "carriers" or of any officer or employee thereof, or occurring while the property above described is in the custody of any "carrier."

The Company assumes no obligations for delivery of the property within any specified time and shall not be liable for any delay, or loss or expense resulting therefrom or due to any act, neglect or defaults of any carrier, or to the failure of any carrier to furnish proper or adequate service, or to congestion, or to the inability of the Company to obtain transportation facilities.

It is agreed that any claim or demand for loss, damage or delay shall lie only against the "carrier" having actual custody of the property en route, and that the Company shall not be liable or responsible for any claim or demand hereunder from any cause whatsoever unless in each case the damages alleged to have been suffered be proven to have been caused by the negligence of the Company or of its officers or employees.

3. The Company shall in no event be liable for any loss, damage or delay to said property or to any part thereof occasioned by act of God, by perils or accidents of the sea or other waters, or of navigation or transportation of whatsoever nature or kind; by fire or explosion from any cause whatsoever occurring; by theft or pilferage by any person whatsoever; by arrest or restraint of governments, princes, rulers or peoples or those purporting to exercise governmental or other authority; by legal process or stoppage in transit; by fumigation or other acts or requirements of quarantine or sanitary authorities; by epidemics, pestilence, riots or rebellions, by war or by any of the dangers incident to a state of war, or by acts of any person or group of persons purporting to wage war or to act as a belligerent; by strikes or stoppage of labor or labor troubles, whether of carrier's employees or others; by unseaworthiness of any vessel, lighter or other craft whatsoever, although existing at time of shipment on board thereof or at the beginning of the voyage, by water, heating or effects of climate, frost, decay, smell, taint, rust, sweat, dampness, mildew, spotting, rain or spray, inherent vice, drainage, leakage, breakage, vermin; improper or insufficient packing, inaccuracies or obliterations, errors, insufficiency or absence of marks, numbers, address or description of goods; nor for breakage of any fragile articles or damage to any materials consisting of or contained in glass; nor shall this Company be held liable or responsible for any damage to or resulting from dangerous corrosive, explosive or inflammable goods, even if the true nature has been declared to the Company; nor for neglect, damage, accident to or escape or mortality of any animals or birds received by the Company hereunder, from any cause whatsoever.

4. Unless a greater valuation is declared at time of shipment and stated in this receipt, and a transportation charge for valuation and the charge of the Company for arranging same, paid or agreed to be paid, it is agreed that the value of the shipment received for as above does not exceed the sum of $50 for any shipment of one hundred pounds or less, or 50 cents per pound actual weight for any shipment in excess of one hundred pounds, or the invoice value if less, and in no event exceeding $100 per package. The Company shall in no event be liable for a greater valuation per shipment than is hereinbefore agreed upon, and any partial loss or damage for which the Company may be liable shall be adjusted pro rata on the basis of such valuation.

5. In no event shall the Company be liable for any act, omission or default hereunder unless a claim therefor in writing shall be presented to it at a point of shipment within six months after date of shipment, in a statement to which this receipt and sworn proof of claim shall be attached. No suit to recover for any claim or demand hereunder shall in any event be maintainable against the Company unless instituted within one year after the presentation of the said claim as above provided. No agent or employee of the Company shall have authority to alter or waive any of the requirements of this clause.

6. It is further agreed that since the Company, and the "carriers" which will transfer and handle this shipment, will have no control over the shipment while in custody of government officials, a full and complete delivery will be deemed to have been made when the shipment shall have been delivered to custom house, government, or other authorities as required by the law or custom regulations in force in country of destination; also if destination be an interior point, shipment may be stopped in transit at foreign ports, frontiers or depositories and held at owner's risk pending examination assessment and payment of duties, customs fees and other charges, all of which shall be a lien on the property. If the Company is to collect from the consignee, before delivery of the property above described, any sum of money, whether on behalf of the shipper or on behalf of the Company or otherwise, the Company may allow the property above described to remain in the custody of the customs officials or others and/or detain same at port of first arrival or interior (at the option of the Company) whether in warehouse depot or elsewhere, until such sum of money is received from the original or substituted consignee or owner. While holding in warehouse wherever situated or to whomsoever belonging, or during any interruption or detention in transit or at ports of transhipment or at destination, shipment will be at owner's risk and expense, and any expense or charges accruing for storage, duties, taxes, customs or other items, shall be payable to the Company on demand, by the shipper, consignee, owner or assignee of this receipt. The shipper agrees to furnish such papers or documents as may be necessary to enable the Company to forward the said property to destination.

7. In the event that any charges or monies are to be collected from the consignee and the same are not paid, or in event that the consignee cannot be found or refuses to receive the shipment, or if for any other reason the shipment is not delivered, the Company reserves the right to permit or cause the disposal thereof in accordance with the laws, rules or practices of the country of destination (or other country if detained at port of arrival or frontier), or to order it to be returned at shipper's expense, subject to the conditions of this receipt. The Company may, however, permit or cause the shipment to be sold in accordance with the laws, rules and practices or the country of destination (or other country if detained at port of arrival or frontier), in order to satisfy any charges and expenses thereon, and in the event that the available proceeds of the sale fail to cover such charges, or in the event of disposal as aforesaid, the Company shall be entitled to recover from the shipper, consignee, owner or assignee of this receipt any balance remaining due or in the event of confiscation, destruction, or perishing of the shipment, or loss or damage thereto, the shipper, owner, consignee, or holder of this receipt will pay all accrued charges of whatsoever nature.

8. The Company will not in any event be liable for any shipment of platina, gold, gold dust, silver, bullion, or other precious metals, coins, jewelry, bills of any bank or public body, diamonds or other precious stones or any gold or silver in a manufactured or unmanufactured state, watches, clock or time-pieces of any description, trinkets, orders, notes or securities for payment of money, coupons, stamps, maps, writings, title-deeds, printings, engravings, pictures, gold or silver plate or plated articles, glass, china, silks in a manufactured or unmanufactured state, furs, lace, field and other glasses, or other valuables, unless at the time of delivering to the Company such shipment or the documents covering the same, a written notice of the true character and value thereof be given to the Company, notation thereof be made on this receipt, all of the Company's requirements with respect to the acceptance of such shipments complied with, and a transportation charge for valuation and the charge of the Company for arranging same be paid or agreed to be paid. The inclusion by the shipper of the aforementioned or other valuables in packages with other merchandise is prohibited.

9. Any fines, penalties, expenses, loss or damage which the Company or any "carrier" transporting or handling this property may incur or suffer on account of insufficiency of packing or packages, incorrect or insufficient marking of packages or description of contents, or the dangerous nature of such contents, or the non-conformity with customs, quarantine or other laws, regulations or requirements, or from undervaluation or misdescription of the property by shipper, owner or consignee, or from erroneous invoices, or from any other cause, shall be paid on demand by the shipper, consignee, owner or assignee of this receipt, and a lien may be enforced upon the goods for the payment thereof.

Any person who shall omit to fully declare the nature of any explosive, inflammable or otherwise dangerous matter, and to plainly mark the nature of the contents on the outside of the package, will render himself liable for any damage or penalties arising from such goods, whether such shipper shall be aware of the nature of such goods or not and whether such shipper shall be principal or agent only.

10. The designation American Express Company (herein referred to as the Company) shall be understood to designate the several organizations or companies in the various countries of the world constituting the American Express System as their respective interests may appear.

11. It is agreed that any claim, demand or question arising out of this shipment and document shall be determined according to the laws of the State of New York.

NOTICE: In view of the fact that many of the bills of lading, receipts, etc., in use by the "carriers" contain provisions extremely short notice of claim for loss or damage to goods, consignees are warned for their own protection to give immediate notice of claim in writing in case of loss or damage to this shipment to the last "carrier" from which such consignee takes delivery. If loss or damage is discovered or suspected before removal of the property from wharf, warehouse, railroad station, or other medium of delivery by the "carrier," notice of claim in writing should be given to said "carrier" by consignee before removal of the goods.

with reference to some counterfeiting done in Singapore.

The counterfeited Straits Settlements notes were presumably those of De La Rue.

Do not know what the Hongkong Bank notes were, nor do I understand why they should be counterfeited in Singapore. So far as I know or have ever seen, the only notes permitted to circulate in the Colony are these of the Government of the Straits Settlements.

TELEGRAPH. WEDNESDAY

FORGED SINGAPORE BANK NOTES.

SIX MONTHS' SENTENCE FOR LICENSED HAWKER.

Before Mr. Butters, at the Central Police Court yesterday a Fukien Chinese was charged with being in possession of a forged $10 Hongkong and Shanghai Bank note and 22 one-dollar Straits Settlements notes.

Mr. T. G. Bennett appeared for the defence.

Detective Sergeant Flattery prosecuted and, in detailing the facts of the case, mentioned that at about 11.30 p.m. on August 10, a Chinese revenue officer had received certain information and arrested the defendant, whom he saw in Graham Street. He did not search the defendant but took him back to the Revenue Office where he was searched by R. O. Grimmitt.

In the stocking of defendant's left leg were nine $1 Straits Settlements notes and the $10 Hongkong note while in his other stocking were the other Straits Settlements notes.

Mr. E. R. Dovey gave evidence of discrepancies in the notes found on the defendant when compared with genuine notes which had been supplied by the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank. Witness indicated that the forgeries were detected by the inaccuracies in the details. He pointed out that in the forged notes Dieu was spelt Dieo.

In reply to Mr. Bennett, witness admitted that the discrepancies were detected by comparison with notes stated to be genuine but which he himself could not swear were genuine.

Mr. Bennett pointed out to witness that the converse would apply, remarking that as far as witness' own knowledge went the forged note might be genuine and the genuine note the forgery. Witness replied that he had compared the notes with more than one genuine note.

Mr. Bennett then pointed to various details in the forgeries and, from the point of view of the art of craftsmanship, asked witness if they were not more accurate than in the genuine note, witness agreeing.

Crude Forgery.

Mr. G. W. E. True, of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, testified to the $10 note being a very untidy and crude forgery. The ordinary person might be deceived but anybody, who handled notes daily, would not likely be deceived. Compared with other forgeries of bank notes witness said that he would say the one in question was a very poor specimen.

Evidence was then given by a Chinese revenue officer, who made the arrest, and R. O. Grimmitt, who had the defendant searched.

Mr. Bennett submitted there was no evidence on which a jury could find that the note, with which the alleged forgeries had been compared, was genuine. He pointed out that it was necessary to call somebody who would be able to swear that the note produced for comparison was a genuine one. He recalled the Carvalho Yeo case in which the signatures of the Hon. Mr. C. Mcl. Messer were in dispute. He pointed out that Mr. Messer had gone into the box and said that, while one signature was genuine, the other was a forgery and he had spent a whole day explaining why one was a forgery. The only way the police could prove their case in the present instance would be to call the printers of the Straits Settlements notes.

His Worship held that the misspelling of the word Dieu was sufficient evidence of forgery.

Accused's Story.

Mr. Bennett called his client and intimated that his story would be that the notes were given to him by a customer who had purchased some cigarettes from him and, at the same time, had borrowed $7. The man had intimated that he had no local currency and handed a parcel containing the notes to defendant until he returned with the necessary money in local currency. He had failed to return and, on opening the parcel, the defendant had found the $10 note. He suspected that something was wrong as the man had told him he had no local money. He had gone to Graham Street to find the man when he was arrested.

A ricksha coolie gave evidence that he saw a man hand a parcel to the defendant.

Mr. Bennett submitted that there was no evidence that defendant knew the notes were forgeries and contended that his story was a reasonable explanation.

His Worship convicted, accepting the evidence of the concealment of the notes, as conclusive evidence of guilty knowledge. The defendant, who had a previous conviction under the Tobacco Ordinance, was sentenced to six months' hard labour.

I noticed an item in this afternoon's paper that I hope can be worked to advantage to us. A fellow was arrested for passing some counterfeit Straits Settlement notes, and if we can by hook or crook get hold of a few, for it will show that this special watermarked paper is not, as is claimed for it, an infallible protection. I am of course going on the assumption that these are De La Rue's Straits notes. Those of B.W.& Co. I understand were to be put in circulation January 1st, and it hardly seems possible that even if they are counterfeited, that it could be done so soon as to have the bad notes get up here in a month.

In my letter of the 6th on the subject of the National Industrial Bank, I made mention of the fact that a fellow had been arrested for trying to pass counterfeit Straits Settlements notes.

Unfortunately these turned out to be $1.00 notes which are not printed on the special watermarked paper which we are so anxious to get material to condemn.

Enclosed is one of the alleged counterfeits which the police gave me, together with a genuine note for comparison and the following is the police report.

K 32683

Both sent to H.R.Y. 3/14/31.

Both sent to China

"The main differences in the counterfeit and a genuine note are:-

Genuine note. General color scheme of note is distinct red and white. The printing is clear, sharp and white. The pictorial and vacant spaces are clear and white. There is a clear cut distinction between the two colors.

Reverse side. From central scenic pattern and running diagonally on the note are faint purple colored, alternate narrow and broad bands (like "rays" or "flashes".) These bands and the spaces between them are distinct.

False note. The color scheme, printing etc, are not distinct, all being of a reddish tinge, the white not standing out.

Reverse side. There are no diagonal or other bands visible as on the original."

Very little difference in feel of either note's paper. Forgery evidently being of a photographic process. There are no mistakes in spelling, etc."

To the above extract, the Chief of Police added in his own handwriting "Extract from a police report. This is the detective's own observation."

The coolie who tried to pass these claimed he found them in his ricksha and the Magistrate dismissed the case, stating that a poor ignorant coolie could not be expected to know good foreign money from bad. The Police prosecutor appealed, but as there were only five of these notes, they withdrew the appeal.

I rather doubt that this is a counterfeit - it looks more as if it were genuine but printed from a worn out plate. Would be glad to hear of the result of your examination.

Martin did not say anything about wanting this bad note back so you can keep that and the good one if you want to, although if it is a counterfeit, it might be useful for us to have it.

Straits Settlements

Notes of 1 Dollar (One Dollar) De la Rue

Type 1.

State bank note of the "Government of the Straits Settlements", Singapore, Date of issue : September 1st, 1927.

Characteristics:

Paper: Tinted in strong reddish yellow. Thick, very rough. Dark when held to light. About 1 mm. longer (than the genuine note).

Face - See S-t-la.

- a) Tint: Greyish brown, instead of being purple. Shows off faintly. The indication of value "ONE" (in the lower center) is of a dull shade and does not come out in any special way (while on the authentic notes it stands out strongly in a pure and clear purple).
- b) Printing: very well imitated. The tint varies slightly and is nearer to a brick red. The design offers but slight deviations to superficial examination. In the border, the light wavy lines present solutions of continuity in many places. The shaded parts of the number "1" indicating the value (in the four corners) are clearer. The two vignettes representing a landscape on the right and on the left underneath, are of a lesser plastic effect. In the text: "FOR THE CURRENCY COMMISSIONERS", the various letters have contours which lack clearness. Underneath the first "C" of the word "CURRENCY" is printed a red stain in the form of a period. In the indication for the series, the two vertical down-strokes of the "M" are entirely too short. Moreover this letter has indistinct contours.

Back: See S-6-1b.

- a) Tint : The design of the tint in a pink shade, which stands out of the printing in forms of rays, is nearly completely neglected.
- b) Printing: Not as good as that of the face, as to tint and design. The wavy lines are of an evident dark effect. In the vignette, representing a landscape is particularly noticed the dark design representing persons. The text of the inferior edge: "THOMAS DE LA RUE & COMPANY LIMITED, LONDON" (name of the printing concern which has printed the notes), appears crowded.

Remark: Counterfeit prepared in deep intaglio printing. A counterfeited note caught in Singapore (Straits Settlements), bears the indication of M

Series " — " and the number "37200". CHINA OFFICE COUNTERPART DESTROYED (grl)

The two (2) One Dollar Notes of the above Government received with Mr. G. V. T. Cocks' letter of March 14th, 1931, as genuine and forgery, also, the genuine one of the same date as the forgery received a few days later, are all printed from intaglio steel plates in red with a light purple tint on the face of each.

The one numbered 21-22162 said to be genuine has all the lathe work and the fine rulings, etc., much more delicate and sharper than the other genuine note numbered 21-25503, and it appears from this that the plates for the second has been worked up and retinned, as all the fine work is much heavier and the rulings have been strengthened and extended in some places, as will be seen in the denominational panels above the title on the face of the Note, but the main lines have the same general direction and position of the former.

This Note is, no doubt, of a later issue and also appears fresh from the press, but the other one appears to have been in circulation a short time.

The Note numbered 21-22162 said to be a forgery according to Mr. Cocks' letter is, no doubt, a counterfeit as there are many variations in the position and weight of the lines with the other two Notes.

A Note similar to Number 21-22162 was probably used to produce this counterfeit as it bears the same date and signature, but it will be noticed that the lathe work lacks the sharpness of the genuine; that the cycloid work, the diagonal ruling around the center panel on the face, and the small lettering is irregular and heavy.

The vignettes have been entirely re-engraved from a stain or tracing of the genuine Note and show variations in every line - the fine ruddings and highlight dots are all different. In the upper left hand pencil with the word "one", there are diagonal ruled lines at the upper part of the heavy stroke of the letter "T", and that one of these lines are sloping to the counterfeiter. It will also be seen that for a corresponding part of the letter "T" of the right hand pencil, there is an extra ruled line that does not appear in the genuine notes.

The cyclized work over the letter "T" at the end of the word "Government" in the title, it will be noticed joins up differently with the stade lines near the lion's foot of the Coat of arms, and it appears that the cyclized lines were not extended in the plate to meet the stade lines the same manner as for the genuine note. There are many other places in the counterfeit where the cyclized work does not join up with the rest of the work in the same manner as for the genuine note.

This counterfeit is not a direct photochemical reproduction of the genuine note, although for the hatching work and the main pencils, it may appear so. I believe that a photographic enlargement was first made, and this, having been reduced or worked up for the main parts, was then reduced to size and bitten into the plate. The more delicate rulings, decorative pencils and the vignettes being re-engraved from tracings or a sketch on the plate.

The variations in the lines are clearly seen in all parts of the counterfeit; the cyclized work is uneven and it has been worked up in parts with a graver. Neither does it join up with the fine ruddings in the same manner. This proves also that the decorative pencils on the face were re-engraved.

The fine work of the vignettes is entirely different and in many places where there are dots in the genuine, the counterfeit shows continuous and irregular lines. The printing looks very flat and the solids do not have the same depth in the plate as either of the genuine notes.

The genuine notes have the underlying purple lines printed by the offset process. And for the counterfeit, it has been printed from a type plate.

The back of the counterfeit is produced in the same manner as for the face and this plate, also, has been worked up with a graver.

The vignette is very crude and shows about the same treatment as those on the face. Also, vignettes of this character are very easily reproduced by the aid of photography or pen and ink drawings and require very little power work for finishing as there is very little gradation of color; they are generally flat, and lack reflectant and detail in the highlights and shadows.

The underlying tint for the back of the Note is very weak in the counterfeit, but there is a tint in the margin corresponding to the position of the printing of the face photo, which gives the appearance that the ink has bled through to the back of the paper. This indicates that a different oil or binder was used, as this has not happened with either of the genuine Notes.

The paper used for the counterfeit is very similar to that used for the genuine Notes excepting that it is a trifle thicker.

The numbering is rather irregular in all of the Notes, but in the counterfeit it appears more so. The figures of the counterfeit also vary in form and the pressure is uneven, as some of the figures are indented in the paper.

The general color of the counterfeit is slightly more yellowish than the red used for the genuine Notes.

DATE

I was indeed glad to hear the good news contained in your letter of August 29th to the effect that B. W. & Co. had received an order covering the note requirements of the above for 1923.

This is a job which I think De La Rue felt was theirs by right of inheritance and it is pleasant to know that it is taken away from them.

We are just in receipt of your letter of November 5th, under this heading.

Assuredly we are not going to get much business these days, either here or elsewhere, by sitting down and waiting for it to come to us.
Competition is too keen and our competitors too aggressive.

Mac's idea to visit the branch banks in Amoy, Foochow and such places is a good one. Not only do the Managers of these branches have considerable to say about where their notes shall be purchased, but it is conceivable that they may some day set in high places in Shanghai, and I find that if you pay some attention to a man when he doesn't amount to so much, he appreciates the fact that you did so, when the time comes when he reaches a higher position.

I may be wrong about it, but I don't think we could get enough out of the Phillipines to pay for what the effort would cost us in time and money. You know how hard it is in China, where we are established, to secure stationery or bond business. The Governmental Departments can't do anything for us as long as our Government controls the Phillipines, and there isn't much commercial business that we could hope to get. I don't know whether or not the U.S.Government intends to exercise control over the fiscal policy of the Islands when they acquire their independence. If they do not, it is my opinion that the Filipinos will indulge in an orgy of issuing bank notes, similar to that which obtained in China prior to 1928, so when independence is nearer we ought to get busy.

PROSPECTS

Siam is a good prospect any day. I do not know how long De la Rue's contract has to run and I presume they wouldn't let it go elsewhere without a strong fight. On the other hand, we will never get the business of the Siamese Government if we wait for them to come and hand it to us. We will require a long campaign of education and solicitation. The trouble with Siam is that by the time you have the Minister of Finance or whoever the functionary is that places the orders, well lined up the complexion of the Government changes and the individual is out.

The question is - who had better go - Mac or I ? Unless something now unforeseen turns up I shall have to go to Moscow and Budapest, and when I am that far on my way I might as well return to China via the Suez. Am not going to take a chance on the Trans-Siberian with the war clouds hanging so low. If that tentative plan eventuates I could debark at Singapore and go up to Bangkok. But maybe Mac could do the job better, for he is a "mixer" par excellence and a capable and enthusiastic propagandist. In addition, in case we did have a chance there he would have to attend to it, being nearer than we are. Before you get this I may be able to make definite plans and will telegraph you. It is strange you should mention Dr. Smith, for the last time I came up from Bangkok to Hongkong he was a fellow passenger. As you will see from the files, I have been in touch with John H. Brett, formerly with the National City Bank, and now with the Siam Commercial Bank, and H. F. Scholz of the International Engineering Co. Mac might write down and see how the land lies. Java too might be worth a visit. As the bank's Governors subsequent to Mr. Zeilinga, have been most pro-Holland and feel they ought to get their bank notes in the old country, but the present Governor's time must be nearly, if not quite up. Wickers is apparently "off" us, for he never was courteous enough to even acknowledge any of my letters. A Governor's term is 5 years only, and as Wickers came in in 1929 he must be just about out. Dr. Tripp, with whom I am quite friendly, is now the head of the Government Bank at Amsterdam, and if it is convenient when I go to Europe I shall call on him. He doubtless has a certain influence in the Javasche Bank and would, I think, be glad to help us. It was pressure from home, Tripp told me, that made him give their last order to Enschede.

You know you always found me, and I can assure you that you will find the other officers of the Company, most sympathetic to any efforts made to secure business. We leave it to your judgment to see that we don't spend too much doing so.

You will recall that when I was in New York I spoke about Siam, and you agreed with me that if we had anybody going to that part of the world he should look in at Bangkok. I think I explained to you that our contract with the Straits Settlements came to an end last year, and this year's order is a supplementary indent. We have heard confidentially that the next order, which should be placed next autumn, will be for an entirely new note, and I think it just as well to send somebody out there, so our Mr. Burge is leaving by air shortly for Singapore, and, since he is going as far as there, I have asked him to go on to Bangkok, and also to stop at Colombo on his way back. The last postage stamp order for Ceylon was divided between De la Rues and ourselves. De la Rues have always had the currency note issue. It ~~is~~ was an awful surface printed thing, after the style of the Bank of England £5 note, only not so good, but with an additional rose coloured microscopic ground in the centre, and printed from surface. We have had a try from time to time to get them to have a modern steel engraved note, and as Burge will be coming back via Colombo, I have asked him to see what he can do there.
